Plateau Repairs Continue - Afternoon

February 26, 2023 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

City of Iqaluit Public Works crews are continuing repairs on the water main supplying the Plateau. The City appreciates your patience, and we will update customers of any change.

When water does return to the Plateau, the system takes time to return to full pressure. It will be a gradual return for many customers.

When work is complete, the City will issue a Public Service Announcement, and a precautionary boil water advisory remains in place for the Plateau.
