2026 Property Tax Notice

November 12, 2026 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

The City of Iqaluit would like to advise residents that property tax bills for the 2026 taxation year have been distributed. Property owners are encouraged to review their bills and make payments toward any outstanding property tax balances.

Property taxes help support the essential municipal services and infrastructure that our community relies on every day. Keeping property tax accounts up to date contributes to the continued delivery of these services across Iqaluit.

The City understands that financial circumstances can vary, and paying an outstanding balance in full may not always be possible. Residents who need assistance are encouraged to contact the City's Finance and Corporate Services Department to discuss available payment options.

Flexible payment plans are available to help residents manage outstanding balances through regular, manageable payments tailored to their circumstances.

The City is committed to working with residents in a respectful and confidential manner to find practical solutions. Whether you have questions about your bill, wish to make a payment, or would like to discuss a payment plan, we encourage you to reach out.

Residents wishing to discuss their property tax accounts or payment arrangements can contact:

Director of Financial Services
