Results of City of Iqaluit Water Testing

October 15, 2021 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

The City of Iqaluit would like to advise of an emergency press conference today regarding the results of our recent water tests.

The press conference will be at 5:00PM EST

The press conference will take place in City council chambers

Local media must make arrangements with the City of Iqaluit to attend this press conference in person as space is limited. This will be done on a first come, first serve basis. All guests of council chambers must be able to provide proof of double vaccination, and will be required to wear masks at all times.

National media outlets and residents are encouraged to listen to the City of Iqaluit live stream. The link for this will be located on the City's website 15 minutes prior to the meeting.
