Water Distribution for Businesses

October 18, 2021 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

Bottled water distribution centers are intended to provide residents with drinking water; businesses may attend the Water Depot located next to the library, to secure potable water for their business related needs.

At this time, the City of Iqaluit is asking local businesses and organizations to collect their own potable from the water depot (library) while the Do Not Consume Advisory is in effect.

For questions or concerns related to the collection and distribution of potable water, please contact the Water Hotline at 979-5603.
