Potable Water Available

December 3, 2021 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

The temporary suspension of the Canadian Armed Forces Operation LENTUS has not impacted the City's ability to provide residents with potable water at the below water depot locations.

Water has been and remains available at the following water depot locations:

- AWG (indoors back door)
- Abe Okpik Hall (indoors)
- Elder's Qammag (indoors)

The depots are open seven days a week from 11am-6pm.

Bottled water will be available at the CURLING RINK, at the following times:

Sunday, December 5th: 1:00pm-3:00pm

Tuesday, December 7th: 10:00am-12:30pm

Thursday, December 9th: 10:00am- 12:30pm

Friday, December 10th: 10:00am-12:30pm

Residents are asked to be cautious and watch for traffic as they enter and exit the facility.

The City of Iqaluit would like to assure residents that there is no shortage of potable water in Iqaluit. There is a multiday supply of bottled water, stocked in warehouses, across the city and additional reserves of bottled water are currently arriving daily.
