Response to 1088 Noble House Fire

January 09, 2025 – Iqaluit, Nunavut

The City of Iqaluit continues to address the impacts of the fire at 1088 Noble House with the dedicated efforts of the Iqaluit Fire Department (IFD), Public Works, and Recreation staff. These teams have been working tirelessly since 19:30 yesterday, and continued their efforts overnight to prioritize the safety and well-being of all residents.

To support those affected, the Cadet Hall warming shelter remains open. The shelter offers donated clothing, food, and snacks, along with on-site assistance from Recreation staff. Displaced residents are encouraged to visit for warmth, comfort, and support.

For residents who had been living in a Nunavut Housing Corporation (NHC) unit, please contact 867-222-1304 for inquiries related to housing or other NHC services.

The City recognizes that this is a difficult time for many. If you or someone you know is in need of emotional support, please reach out to one of the following crisis services:

- Nunavut Kamatsiaqtut Help Line: 867-979-3333 or toll-free at 1-800-265-3333
- Kids Help Phone: 1-800-668-6868 or text CONNECT to 686868
- First Nations and Inuit Hope for Wellness Help Line: 1-855-242-3310

In challenging moments like these, the compassion and generosity of our community shine brightest. The incredible support shown has provided essential relief to those affected, and the City extends heartfelt thanks to the following organizations, businesses, and individuals for their contributions:

- The Legion & Nunavut Excavating
- Arctic Ventures
- Chrono Aviation
- C&K Services
- Canaps Security
- Yummy Shawarma
